Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Monday 13 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Tuesday rather cloudy but a few sunny intervals. Isolated showers.

This Evening and Tonight:
The Northeast will stay dry with some clear spells. Southern and western areas will be cloudier and there will be some occasional, mainly light outbreaks of rain. Light winds.

Tuesday:
Rather cloudy for most, mainly dry but a few showers possible. Best chance of sunny spells breaking through in the north, though with isolated fairly heavy showers.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Some showers possible on Wednesday but brighter spells too. Dry and bright on Thursday but strengthening winds later. Rain, heavy at times, crossing east on Friday, west becoming brighter later.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.